

Bronx Osborne Gun Accountability & Prevention (BOGAP) Program

BOGAP is a year-long diversion program for eligible participants who are facing a first-time gun possession charge.

Developed and implemented with the Bronx District Attorney's Office, this program combines workforce development, behavioral and trauma therapy, mentoring, and nonviolent conflict resolution training from credible messengers. These tools support participants in identifying harmful thoughts, behaviors, and outcomes with the goal of promoting individual behavior change and creating public safety. Participants who successfully complete the program will have all charges dismissed.
